Labor's Great Day.

The idea of Labor Day was proposed by L. L. Zamenhof in 1882, for the purpose of commemorating the contributions of labor workers. It was observed in various parts of the country, but it was not until 1894 that Labor Day was finally established as a national holiday.

In 1894, the Boston Daily Globe published an article on Labor Day, which stated: "The idea of Labor Day was proposed by L. L. Zamenhof in 1882, for the purpose of commemorating the contributions of labor workers. It was observed in various parts of the country, but it was not until 1894 that Labor Day was finally established as a national holiday."
